One Day Workshop on

“Computer Training Programme for Non-Teaching Staff”

REPORT

Tuesday, 04/09/2018

Ashti Taluka Shikshan Prasarak Mandal's Arts Commerce & Science College Ashti has organized computer Training Programme for Non-teaching Staff on date 04/09/2018, through Internal Quality Assurance Cell of the college. The first session was started at 10.30 am with inauguration function. The chief guest was Hon. Dr. Ganesh Rewadkar (Samarth Computer Institute, Bhoom) and chairperson was Hon. Principal Dr. S. R. Nimbore. In his speech Dr. Rewadkar expressed his views on the importance of computer and computer training for teaching as well as nonteaching staff. In this vast technical worlds computer knowledge is somewhat compulsory because the computers are being used in private and non-private sectors. Computer knowledge is very essential for official and non official job works. Now a day it became basic need of a person to learn and operate computers. At the end of inauguration function, the chairperson principal Dr. S. R. Nimbore expressed his views that knowledge of computer and its operation is mostly needed in the world. So every person must be careful and sincere enough to learn and operate computer.

Just after inauguration function, there was a tea break from 12.15 p.m to 12.30 p.m. Actual training programme was started at 12.35 p.m. in which the resource person Dr. Ganesh Rewadkar has explained the information of computer, its useful parts and operating system. There was a lunch break during 2.00 to 3.00 p.m.

Finally, the valedictory function was started at 4.30 p.m. The chairperson of that function was Dr. S. G. Gopane and chief guest was Prof. Rameshwar Aglave . He expressed his views on the importance and need of computers in human life. Moreover 10 employees were benefited by this computer training programme. The college and IQAC successfully organized and were satisfied with the attendance of non-teaching staff members. Dr. A. B. Shinde expressed the vote of thanks.

One Day Workshop on

“Research Methodology for Teaching Staff”

REPORT

Thursday, 03/01/2019

Internal Quality Assurance Cell of Arts, Commerce & Science College, Ashti has organized a One day workshop on Research Methodology for Teaching Staff on dated 03/01/2019. Registration for this programme was started at sharp 09.00 am. Just after registration the inauguration function was started at 10.30 am. The chief guest for this function was Dr. Ashok Varma (Principal, Government College, Niwali, M.P.) and the chairperson was Hon. Mr. Kishor Hambarde (President, Ashti Taluka Shikshan Prasarak Mandal, Ashti). In his valuable speech Dr. Ashok Varma expressed his views on importance of research in any sector. Research has much importance in science and agriculture but even we can not avoid research in other faculties. In research, the researchers can find new factors in existing materials. The chairperson of this programme Hon. Mr. Kishor Hambarde concluded that research is mostly welcome and need in all branches of science, commerce and arts faculty.

There was a little session of tea break during 12.15 to 12.30 p.m. The next session sharply started at 12.30 p.m. in which the resource person Dr Ashok Varma expressed the proper method of research and its benefits. Further added that research works in overall social development. It finds new ways, new ideas and new techniques for betterment of society. More over 45 delegates staff members participated in this workshop. During 2.00 p.m to 3.00 p.m. there was a lunch break.

After lunch break the valedictory function started under the chairmanship of Hon. Principal Dr. S. R. Nimbore. Dr. Prashnat Gaikwad (S. G. R. G. Shinde College, Paranda) was the chief guest.. Both the guests firmly stated how research is essential for the teaching faculty and even to the students.

Finally Dr. S. G. Gopane expressed vote of thanks and workshop was ended with fruitful and satisfactory feedback from delegates.
